NOVEMBER 2018

Kaiser Permanente physicians named Top Doctors in Washingtonian magazine's annual peer survey.

TOP DOCTORS

Whether you have a sore throat or sprain or need major surgery, you want a doctor you can trust. Our list can help you find a good one. Here are the area's top 1,900 physicians in 39 specialties, as chosen by their peers.

Edited by Kim Olsen

Washingtonian November 2018

When you need to see a doctor, you might seek a referral from your trusted primary-care physician for the best doctor or specialist in a certain field. This spring, we asked nearly 13,000 doctors in DC, Maryland, and Virginia for just that—about one another. Through an online survey, the region's physicians nominated their colleagues in 39 specialties. On the following pages, you'll find a vetted list of top vote-getters.

To vote, each physician had to include a current medical-license number registered in either the District, Maryland, or Virginia. Doctors could submit just one ballot each and could not vote for themselves.

Many physicians have more than one office; we've listed the address and phone number for only the main location. Also included are special interests as provided by the doctor's office. Absent from the roster are emergency-room doctors, radiologists, and anesthesiologists because normally they're chosen by another doctor—or left to chance, as when you're rushed to the ER or sent for an x-ray.

We hope you find the list to be a useful resource when looking for medical care and that it helps keep you in good health.
